When I think of India
I see in my mind's eye at sunset
The Pink Taj Mahal built in the name of love for a woman.

I think of color and beautiful Saris, even poor women are wonderfully colorful.

I see sacred cows causing traffic jams - free to roam the cities.
Turbans on heads, painted hands and feet. Gandhi working at his Loom,
The smell of golden Curry, Sandalwood, and incense. I see the Bengal Tiger. Exotic-erotic sculpture - The Lovers of Kajeraho. Splendid Temples to the strange Gods - Hindu Gods and animal Gods. And the wonderful stories of Rudyard Kipling.

The Festival of Lights
 Hindus believe that the god Vishnu protects the World with his goodness. Krishna & Rama are his "avatars" and "shaktis" (meaning energy power). Lakshmi is Vishnu's wife. Yama is the god of death - he reminds us that death is a part of life. Figures of gods & goddesses are called "Murtis" used in Hindu homes for worship.

The demon of evil is Narakasur. This festival is a celebration of Krishna's victory over the demon of evil. Sweets - treats - lights & fireworks. A day of feasting - a day of cleaning - the start of a fresh new year. The triumph of Light over darkness.

A Brief History.

India is one of the richest cultures more than 5000 years old. Full of many smaller cultures and 1500 different languages. 18 recognized languages - school is compulsory to age 14 but only 60 percent attend leaving only about 60 percent of the population able to read and write.

The British ruled India from 1800 to 1947 leaving behind the English language, their legal system - roads train systems and India's favorite game: cricket.

there has always been religious tension between Muslims and Hindus causing many wars.

Life expectancy is about 63

The Hindu religion introduced the cast system that divides people into classes for life.

Mahatma Gandhi (1869-1948) known as the great pacifist leader of non-violence who achieved India's independence from Great Britain taught the world the power of non-violent protest. He was assassinated in 1948.

Cows according to the Hindus are sacred and free to roam

the Red spot that women put on their forehead is called bindi symbol of shakti female energy.

India is the world's largest democracy. The Cast system locks people for life and dictates who can be priests, merchants, warriors, servants or workers, and who they can marry. Untouchables are the broken people. Laws have been passed to outlaw the cast system without much success. Dr. Bhimrao Ambedkar who was born a Dalit (untouchable) fought to change this and drafted the Indian Constitution that guarantees Dalits justice and equality. Hindus deprived them of education and were forced to do the worst jobs and never to mix with the upper casts. Despite the law to change this, 50 percent live in poverty and ignorance.

Dance, music, story telling and drama originated as religious performances, very present and popular everywhere in India.

Indian Literature is as ancient as Sanskrit. The Vedas are considered the word of God 350-400 C.E.

women and girls are expected to obey and serve men - often considered a burden requiring huge dowries in order to marry them off.

In 1993 many women filled government seats. In 1966 Indira Gandhi was elected one of the world's first female prime ministers.

Boy babies are celebrated and often if a woman finds she is carrying female fetus, she terminates the pregnancy. These attitudes are discouraged but hard to change.

Hindu marriages are arranged by parents according to the star signs or horoscope - sometimes the girl can refuse but old traditions die hard. There are too many festivals and rituals to list here.

Food: Muslims do not eat pork. Hindus do not eat beef (as cows are sacred). Indians eat with their fingers of the right hand using the thumb as the pusher. Never dirty your fingers beyond the second joint.

Art Crafts Sculpture pottery are 5000 years old. The Ajanta Cave paintings famous for beauty and detail date back to 200 B.C.E painted by monks

Indian Textiles are some of the most exquisite cottons & silks in the world. Brocades woven with gold threads tie dying and Block printing are world famous.

Nov 1. 05 1pm Delhi arrival

The Taxi man with the placard was waiting since 10 AM for my Virgin Atlantic flight. Exhausted from 2 night flights - we are speeding out of Delhi to Anjali's home an hour away in Noida.

In the racing traffic and screaming horns I am amazed to watch the flowing sari clad passengers riding side saddle on the motorcycle in front of us. Knowing the fate of Isadora Duncan, strangled by the wind catching her silk neck scarf - I wonder why how a woman dressed in a flapping sari can do anything practical. with bare feet in flip flops - Taxis + 3 wheelers packed like sardines could catch her magenta shawl.

NEK CHAND'S MUSE, Garden was started in late 30's. Today it attracts 4000 visitors a day & many weddings.

Town wanted to demolish it

Town people circled the grounds to prevent destruction.

Nek Chand is 80 this week. When young

He was working for the RR Co.

& clearing the forest that is govt. land

The pebble walls have no armature

using just cemented pebbles one pebble deep

A wall of Tar barrels cemented together - a wall of old fluorescent tubes.

A wall of ceramic pots stacked cement trees

The root system - was made with shaped rebar covered in cement.

Broken Electrical connectors came from the destruction of 27 villages for the creation of Le Corbusier's Town of Chandigarh.

While Le Corbusier was creating an ^{ensemble} city, Nek Chand created a universe using recycled materials and whatever nature had to offer. acres of rounded white river stones, river creations, a gallery of them, that look like modern sculptures.

Today we were taken behind the scenes up on the top of walls where giant ceramic tiled horses stand like an army of battalion of silent observers.

We pass through a canyon of cement-bag walls 30 feet high on both sides. Just bags of cement that water is poured into that harden, then the next set of bags are stacked on top & they harden. There must be 5 to 10 bags high with some rebars to hold them up. The wall looks like a plump standing quilted puff for half a mile.

In a new part of the forest are hundreds of rebar armatures that will become giraffes, elephants, Gaured cows. that get padded out with mud & straw & then broken tubes are cemented on the bodies

There are crowds of soldiers made the same way.

There is an ~~array~~ of women statues all ~~dressed~~ in broken bangle bracelets. (made of glass, with clay faces)

The city of Chandigarh was designed by Le Corbusier in 1953. Twenty seven villages were destroyed to make this new city. MN Sharma was the chief implementer of the master design along with 100 other architects. It is laid out in 81 sections on the edge of the Punjab.

Royal Desert Camp Pushkar, Ajmer Rajasthan

4/5 white safari tents on 150 acres ~~are~~ rented from the Royal family of Kharpur who owns the Jagat Palace and all this land of rose colored sand dunes takes place this week in Pushkar
The Tents cost $150 per night per person and sleeps 2. They include bathroom ~~with~~ flush toilet, shower + sink, clean sheets, ^{insects} bed quilts + a little verandah with chairs in front. The price includes 3 meals and as many camel cart rides as you wish ~~that~~ takes you into the center of the trading site and camel fair.
I am falling in love with camels
I sit in the cart right behind
"Rama's" tall ramp and watch his thick strong thighs switch back + forth shifting his long tool & big balls from side to side.
The driver steers him with rains attached to his nose.
Rama is proud, a docile beast. Standing beside him I only reach his hip.

The Camel carts have a thick mattress with enough room for 4 people or more. The driver with his reins + stick steers this enormous beast down a dirt road passing more + more Camel carts passing both ways through the dense path to the Camel market. Camels are everywhere out on the dunes silhouetted against the sky. Right in the center they are side to side standing, kneeling or sleeping with their long necks stretched straight out.

This 10 day event attracts thousands of herdsmen with their horses, goats and camels. The dunes are thick with grazing animals + gypsy tents.

Along with the thousand of tourists that come from all over the world there are thousands of pilgrims and women dressed like gypsies in the brightest lovely red gold orange + pink saris, head scarves, tiny in height, some with tiny brown babies all come to visit the temple and bath in the sacred lake. The Herders + pilgrims have set up camp everywhere; stoves cooking - lean-to tents or just sleeping out. Groups of squatting men spitting heat high. we leave the cart + walk into the shopping street - like the Koshah full of colorful shops selling every Indian craft + colorful amazing silks, a small bowed instrument - ingenious toys - I bought 3 reversible silk jackets, 2 for my daughters in law one for Sbie + 1 for me beautiful silks badly sewn but never mind - Very effective elegant + cheap. I got 2 for $20, they cost $50, each if you can find them in America.

To entertain the thousands of tourists as well as the pilgrims there is a giant ferris wheel + on-going fair with a mustash contest - camel pulling contest. milk stripping contest, Turbon Tearing Contest - drumming and folk dancing.

It is very hot all day + the moment the enormous sun goes down you need your coat + sweaters.

Sally was only able to reserve our Tent for 2 nights but 2 days in this bee hive of people + pilgrims - shopping and color. emersion is about all you can stand.

There are 4 giant eating tents that accomodate 400 in this camp. The food is delicious.
I love Dal + Curries

11/3/05

we have moved to a very pleasant hotel right next to a Hari Krishna center. Their chanting wafts over the fields - tedious and quite annoying but the mountains are peaceful + the hotel boys friendly. As this is sacred land you have a long walk out to the road, or you can go on the back of the hotel motorcycle. no cars

At 7:30 AM we are all wrapped in coats & blankets as it is very cold until the sun comes up. Then it is 80 or 90 all day. There is no point in getting out of bed before the sun warms the day - but I am the early riser - and glad of a coat.

we have hired a car to drive us back to Jaipur at 9 AM with some sight seeing along the way. Sally to the airport + I 2 nights at the Phasat Mahal Palace in Jaipur

This is the most Luxurious traveling I've ever done on my own - being picked up + driven to airports - hiring cars for 4 days with drivers skilled at almost-accidents every second - There drivers seem to sleep in their cars while we enjoy showers and service. I will return to the $5.00 a night Ashram for one night before flying to Pune and again for one night in Delhi before flying back to London.

11/4/05 10 AM another hired car driving us to Jaipur with stops at Temples on the way. Leaving shoes outside makes me very nervous as I only have one nice comfortable pair for the rest of this journey + have to wear them. Swiped - good leather. thick rubber sole. + my big interest. as you've been walking in 1 day you can't enter in

Camels walk 100 kl. to Jaipur from Pushkar it takes 3 days. They don't need water. on our car ride from Pushkar to Jaipur we passed at least 700 camels walking to Jaipur. An amazing sight of beasts quietly following the leader 10 abreast - stretching $\frac{1}{2}$ a mile down the side of the road. The babies get "My shyness has been my shield and buckler. It has allowed me to grow. It has helped me in my discernment of truth."

The Gift of His handicap

Gandhi wrote at 70 that his severe shyness and inability to speak in public in the end was a gift. "I can now give myself the certificate that a thoughtless word hardly ever escaped my tongue or pen."

Nalanda TMT Dream Work

11/19/05 Francis Meneses organized his 20 years old dream group for my slide talk called 7 dimensional problem solving. About 40 people turned up. We had projector + megaphones in a beautiful campus Estate Livingston.

These people have been working with Francis for many years meeting about once a month to work on their dreams. I showed my slides of Life + body mapping and nightmare work with children - I felt it went well - they asked for a workshop so Arvind arranged for them to meet at the University Science Center tomorrow. We expect about 20 will come. They seemed very eager to work with me. One woman asked if she could get help with a persistent troubling dream + she was willing to work solo in front of this group immediately.

Her persistent worrisome dream that she has been working on with Francis she said has never gotten satisfaction.

"I dream I give birth to a perfect baby, It comes out clean no blood or afterbirth - I cut the cord, I lift it up to see if it is perfect and it is but I cannot get satisfaction - no matter how many times I have worked on this dream I feel incomplete. I have worked with Francis for 10 years and this dream still haunts me."

I asked her if she was capable of feeling satisfaction - she said no.

I suggested she could ask the baby what satisfaction would be if she could have it. - no response

"I'm a lost cause" she said

Wow! A lost cause - if you have learned to be a lost cause you will never get satisfaction. That is a great way to deprive yourself of satisfaction - you must have learned that very young. whose voice is it that withholds satisfaction - my father - let me tell you about survival strategies. We learn them in childhood in order to survive - what do you think the benefits of being a lost cause might be?
nothing I can do is good enough

so you might as well be a lost cause - and I suspect if the perfect baby had a penis life might have been different for you

This was a nice bit of work she understood that she was playing the same trick of dissatisfaction that she learned from her parents
+ it was time to learn satisfaction herself.

We walked around the room telling every one there that she was no longer a lost cause she was satisfied with a perfect girl baby.
